Welcome to the New Academic Year!

Dear NHJS Parents, Students, and School Community,

As we begin a brand new academic year at NationalHigh Jakarta School, I would like to extend a very warm welcome to every member of our community. Whether you are a returning family or joining us for the first time, we are delighted to have you with us for another year of learning, growth, and discovery.

A Year of New Beginnings

A new school year is always a season of fresh possibilities. It's a time for students to set new goals, make new friends, and embrace the opportunities that lie ahead. Whether you are entering Primary One, Middle School, or your final year of Senior High, every stage offers exciting moments to learn and grow.

More Than Academics

At NHJS, we believe education is about nurturing the head, heart, and hands. Alongside academic excellence, we are deeply committed to developing good character and life skills in our students. Our school values — Passion, Integrity, Adaptability, Grace, Excellence, and Teamwork — guide us in shaping students who not only achieve well but live well.

This year, we encourage every student to:

- Make new friends and reach out to others.
- Be open to learning new things, both in and beyond the classroom.
- Participate actively in the school's programmes, projects, and activities.
- Be gracious, caring, and kind in words and actions.

Simple acts of kindness and encouragement help make our school a warmer, more inclusive place for everyone.

Exciting Programmes Ahead

Our calendar this year is filled with meaningful activities — from science and language enrichment to sports, student leadership, milestone programmes, and community outreach projects. We invite all students to take part actively, challenge themselves, and explore new interests.

At the personal front, I like to urge everyone to read extensively, make more friends, and always do your very best.

THE PIAGET 12-YEAR EDUCATION JOURNEY

The Piaget 12-Year Education Journey at NationalHigh Jakarta School

- Nurturing Hearts, Minds, and Purpose

At NationalHigh Jakarta School (NHJS), education is more than just striving for academic success — it is a meaningful journey of growth, discovery, and becoming. The P12YEJ (Piaget 12-Year Education Journey) reflects our strong belief that every child is a curious learner, a budding leader, and a changemaker in the making. Grounded in a thoughtful blend of eastern values and western educational principles, our curriculum is designed to be both rigorous and holistic. From the Singapore Ministry of Education's curriculum in the Primary years to the Cambridge International Curriculum in Secondary and Junior College, NHJS provides students with a robust academic foundation while nurturing a strong sense of self, responsibility, and purpose.

Learning That Grows With the Child

The P12YEJ framework supports students across three key areas of development — cognitive, affective, and physical-aesthetic. Our academic programme is rich and structured, encouraging critical thinking and multilingual fluency, with trilingualism (English, Bahasa Indonesia, and Chinese) embedded from the early years to A-Level. Equally important is character development, where students are guided to become kind, responsible individuals who contribute to their families and communities. Creativity and personal expression also flourish through music, visual arts, dance, and sports — helping shape confident, well-rounded learners.

Guided by Purpose, Fuelled by Possibility

Throughout the P12YEJ, students engage in key international assessments that reflect their growth and academic journey: the iPSLE at the end of Primary 6, IGCSE at the end of Secondary 4 (Year 10), and the Cambridge International A-Level at the end of Junior College (Year 12). These benchmarks not only measure academic achievement but also offer insight into students' individual progress and potential.

Beyond the Classroom: Learning for Life

What truly sets NHJS apart is our strong commitment to learning beyond the classroom. Through a wide range of Other Learning Experiences (OLEs), students are encouraged to explore their passions and develop as compassionate, globally-minded individuals. Signature programmes include Co-Curricular Activities (CCA) that nurture talents in the arts, sports, and community engagement; Milestone Programmes such as the Coming of Age (COA) Programme, a 25-day outdoor and cultural experience that builds self-awareness and responsibility; Student Councils (SC) and Youth Leadership Conventions (YLC) that foster confidence and leadership skills; Learning Journeys and Overseas Immersions to places such as Singapore, China, and Australia; and meaningful Community Service Initiatives that instil empathy and real-world understanding. In addition, by the end of Year 12, every student receives their P12YEJ Report—a comprehensive portfolio that highlights their leadership and service involvement, milestone experiences, CCA participation, learning journeys, awards, internships, and enriching out-of-school activities that reflect the full breadth of their growth.

THE PIAGET 12-YEAR EDUCATION JOURNEY

Whether it's forming lifelong friendships, taking the stage, serving others, or tackling real-world challenges, students at NHJS are empowered to flourish and lead with heart and purpose.

At NHJS, everything we do begins with the child in mind. Every programme, lesson, and initiative is thoughtfully designed to bring out the best in each learner. We instil values such as integrity, resilience, compassion, and the joy of learning – always with a forward-thinking mindset. And we embrace the spirit of "Yes, and..." – encouraging creativity, courage, and endless possibilities.

PI2YEJ is not just an academic roadmap; it is a life-shaping experience. One that prepares students not only to succeed – but to lead, to serve, and to thrive with confidence in an ever-changing world.

Y8 MILESTONE PROGRAMME

Y8 COA 24/25 - Bridges Between Cultures, Bonds Beyond Borders

Over the course of 25 days in China, we were given the incredible opportunity to explore, learn, and grow. This journey not only deepened our understanding of Chinese culture and history but also helped us develop essential values such as teamwork, leadership, communication, and independence. Beyond these, we acquired important life skills and created meaningful memories that we will carry with us for a long time.

Our journey began in Ronghuai, where we spent eight days learning about the teachings of Confucius and the core principles of Dizigui. The environment was peaceful and welcoming—the teachers were kind and patient with us, and the students were always helpful. We even made new friends among the local students and often chatted with them during break times. We took part in a range of cultural activities such as Taichi, traditional Chinese calligraphy, bamboo weaving, and painting. These experiences offered us a deep appreciation for Chinese traditions and values, as well as an opportunity to step outside our comfort zones.

Our next destination was Oriental Land (OL), a large educational and activity-based complex. There, we participated in a variety of outdoor challenges, including rock climbing, kayaking, and building a bamboo raft. Although our raft ended up sinking halfway, the experience was still fun and memorable. One of the most unique parts of OL was the three-day camping experience, where we stayed in tents and worked together in teams to complete various tasks. A major highlight was the MasterChef cooking challenge, where we had to prepare our own meals using ingredients we bought from the supermarket. We made egg fried rice, which turned out to be really delicious—though it wasn't quite enough for all of us. That moment brought lots of laughter, teamwork, and a surprising amount of cooking pride. All of these activities taught us the value of resilience, cooperation, and trust. We realised that success isn't always about competition—it often comes from helping and supporting each other. On our final day at OL, we visited Shanghai and explored the Disney Store, which was definitely a highlight for many of us.

Following this, we travelled to Qufu, the birthplace of Confucius. We visited significant historical sites, including the Confucius Temple and his family mansion. It was fascinating to learn more about his life, influence, and enduring legacy. This part of the trip allowed us to reflect on the importance of wisdom, respect, and moral character.

Our final destination was Beijing, where we visited several of China's most iconic landmarks. Climbing the Great Wall of China was an unforgettable experience that reminded us of the strength and perseverance needed to achieve great things. We also explored the Forbidden City and other historical sites, all of which offered us valuable insights into China's rich past. Beijing was a fitting conclusion to our journey, as it tested our independence and our ability to manage a busy schedule with responsibility.

Y8 MILESTONE PROGRAMME

One of the most unforgettable and challenging parts of the trip was the series of milestone challenges we faced. It began with the Wuxie mountain climb, which was the first time many of us had done something like that. Then came the 12km walk back from the supermarket—we thought it would be a quick trip, but it turned into a full-on trek. After that, we had the 21km hike, which really pushed us to our limits. We also did the Talisman climb, which was tough but felt incredibly rewarding once we reached the top. And of course, the biggest challenge of all—the Great Wall of China. It was steep and exhausting, but the view made it all worthwhile. By the end of all these climbs and hikes, our legs were sore, but looking back, we felt proud of how much we had accomplished.

Throughout this programme, we have not only learned about China but also about ourselves. We've become more adaptable, responsible, and confident. Along the way, we also formed strong friendships with the students from SNA who shared this journey with us. Whether we were working together during activities, laughing on the bus, or simply chatting during meals, they became a special part of the experience. The lessons, connections, and memories we've made during this journey have truly left a lasting impact on us all.

The most vibrant moment of the ceremony came with the batch performance of “Wavin’ Flag” by K’naan. The performance was a joyful culmination of the students’ hard work and spirit, featuring a dynamic blend of singing, instrumental accompaniment, and choreography.
