Winning Isn't Everything

Over the past few weeks, I have watched our students take part in a range of school activities – sports matches, performances, and academic competitions. The energy and excitement in these events are always contagious. You can feel the pride in every cheer, the support from teachers and parents on the sidelines, and the determination in every student's face. But as I observed these moments, I found myself reflecting on something important: winning isn't everything.

We all love to see our students succeed. We celebrate their medals, their high scores, and their victories as recognition of their hard work and perseverance. Yet, sometimes, in our enthusiasm, we may forget that not every victory is measured by a trophy or a certificate. Some of the greatest wins happen quietly, in a child's courage to try again after a setback, in their willingness to support a teammate, or in their grace to accept defeat without bitterness.

Losing, though uncomfortable, teaches lessons that no victory can. It builds resilience, patience, and empathy. It reminds our children that success is not a straight line, and that growth often happens through challenges they face. When they learn to persevere despite disappointment, they discover their own strength. When they cheer for a friend who performed better, they learn humility and grace. These are lessons that shape character in ways a score alone never could.

As a school community, what matters most, then, is not whether we win or lose, but how we play, how we respond, and how we grow. When we shift the focus from "Did you win?" to "Did you do your best?" or "What did you learn today?", we begin to see success in richer, more meaningful ways. The process of teamwork, effort, and perseverance is every bit as important as the outcome.

At NationalHigh, our goal has always been to nurture learners who embody the PIAGET values: Passion, Integrity, Adaptability, Grace, Excellence, and Teamwork. Competitions and performances are part of that journey, but they are not the destination. They are platforms where our children discover more about themselves, about others, and about the kind of people they aspire to be.

So let us continue to cheer one another on, not only when they bring home medals, but also when they show courage, humility, and resilience. Let us remember that failure is not the opposite of success; it is part of the journey towards it. And as our students continue to learn and grow, may they grow to understand that the true measure of winning lies not in the trophy cabinet, but in the heart.

MID-AUTUMN FESTIVAL CELEBRATION

中秋庆祝晚会

Mid-Autumn Festival Celebration

十月十日的傍晚，校园的上空渐渐亮起了一盏盏彩灯。我们的学校迎来了每年最热闹的活动——中秋庆祝晚会。那天的空气里带着节日的味道，既有月饼的甜香，也有笑声的温度。操场上人山人海，家长、老师、学生都穿上了节日的服装，整个校园像一幅五彩的画卷，充满了欢声笑语。

On the evening of October 10th, the sky above our school gradually lit up with colourful lanterns. Our school welcomed one of its most festive occasions of the year — the Mid-Autumn Festival Celebration. The air was filled with the fragrance of mooncakes and the warmth of laughter. The playground was crowded with parents, teachers, and students dressed in bright holiday clothes. The entire campus looked like a vivid painting, filled with color, music, and joy.

晚会在欢快的音乐中拉开序幕。开场节目是由低年级的小朋友表演的舞蹈，他们一身红衣，动作整齐可爱，立刻点燃了全场的气氛。每一个节目结束，掌声、欢呼声此起彼伏，家长们纷纷举起手机记录下孩子的风采。那一刻，灯光与笑容交织成一片温柔的光海。

The evening began with lively music. The opening performance — a dance by lower-grade students in bright red costumes — instantly set the stage ablaze with excitement. After each performance, waves of applause and cheers filled the air as parents eagerly raised their phones to capture the moment. In that light, smiles and spotlights intertwined into a sea of gentle radiance.

除了节目，操场四周的美食区更是人气爆棚。香气四溢的汉堡、清甜的冰饮、以及各种口味的月饼，让人眼花缭乱。老师和家长们一边品尝美食，一边闲聊；孩子们则在游戏区兴奋地排队，笑声不断。

Around the playground, the food stalls were just as popular. The aroma of burgers, the sweetness of icy drinks, and the wide variety of mooncakes dazzled everyone. Teachers and parents chatted and laughed as they enjoyed the food, while children lined up excitedly at the game booths, their laughter ringing through the night.

夜色渐深，最令人期待的环节终于来了——烟花表演。随着“砰”的一声巨响，绚丽的烟花腾空而起，照亮了整个夜空。红的、紫的、金的光芒绽放在空中，像一朵朵盛开的花。孩子们惊喜地叫着，家长们也忍不住抬头凝望。那一刻，所有的欢笑与感动都融进了那片闪烁的夜色里。

As night deepened, the most anticipated moment arrived — the fireworks show. With a loud boom, colourful fireworks burst into the sky, lighting up the night. Red, purple, and golden sparks bloomed like flowers. Children cheered in wonder, and parents gazed upward in awe. In that shining moment, laughter and emotion melted into the glowing night sky.

这场中秋晚会不仅是一场节日的庆典，更是一场心与心的相聚。它让我们在忙碌的生活中停下脚步，感受团圆的意义，体会相聚的幸福。正如那轮圆月，它温柔地照亮了校园，也照亮了每个人的心。

This Mid-Autumn celebration was more than a festive event — it was a gathering of hearts. It reminded us to pause in our busy lives, to feel the meaning of reunion, and to cherish the happiness of togetherness. Like the full moon above, it gently lit up our campus — and the hearts of everyone beneath it.

PENDIDIKAN PANCASILA

Sumpah Pemuda: Generasi Emas Cipta Prestasi Tanpa Batas

Sumpah Pemuda yang terjadi pada tanggal 28 Oktober 1928 merupakan salah satu rangkaian momen penting dalam sejarah Indonesia. Pemuda pemudi dari berbagai daerah bersatu mengucapkan sumpah untuk satu tanah air, satu bangsa, dan satu bahasa dalam Kongres Pemuda II yang kini dikenal dengan Sumpah Pemuda.

Sumpah Pemuda menumbuhkan rasa cinta terhadap Indonesia, yang diwujudkan melalui rasa nasionalisme dan patriotisme. Jika seorang pemuda memahami sejarah bangsanya maka ia akan cenderung memiliki semangat cinta tanah air yang sesungguhnya. Sebab kita ada karena generasi sebelumnya dan kita ada untuk generasi selanjutnya.

Bagi murid pada sekolah dasar, Sumpah Pemuda dipahami sebagai persatuan dalam keberagaman, menghargai satu sama lain tanpa memandang suku, agama, dan ras, serta memiliki rasa cinta tanah air, bangsa, dan bahasa Indonesia. Walaupun berasal dari latar belakang yang berbeda, kita harus saling menghormati dan bekerja sama demi persatuan bangsa. Sedangkan bagi murid pada sekolah menengah lanjutan sumpah pemuda bisa dimaknai dengan kenali potensi sejak dini, menjunjung tinggi nilai Pancasila, menggunakan bahasa Indonesia, mencintai produk Indonesia, berprestasi bagi bangsa bahkan menginspirasi sesama. Hal ini sejalan dengan ucapan Ir. Soekarno bahwa "Beri aku 1.000 orang tua, niscaya akan kucabut Semeru dari akarnya. Beri aku 10 pemuda, niscaya akan kuguncangkan dunia" menunjukkan betapa besarnya peran pemuda dalam kehidupan berbangsa dan bernegara.

Sumpah Pemuda adalah warisan semangat yang tak ternilai harganya. Persatuan adalah kunci untuk menciptakan generasi Indonesia berkarakter Pancasila. Generasi Emas Indonesia tidak akan lahir dari pribadi yang hanya mementingkan diri sendiri, melainkan dari pemuda-pemudi yang bersatu, berintegritas, dan berprestasi tanpa henti. Mari kita jadikan setiap langkah kita baik di sekolah, di rumah, maupun di lingkungan masyarakat sebagai wujud nyata Sumpah Pemuda dengan persatuan yang kokoh dan semangat untuk terus berprestasi tanpa batas menuju Indonesia emas di tahun 2045.

BLU: GEN 2025

Over the past few weeks, the Student Council has been hard at work driving the Blu:Gen initiative — a friendly yet impactful recycleable trash-collecting competition that aims to promote environmental awareness and responsible waste management across all Year 1 – Year 9 classes. The main focus of the competition was the collection of used plastic bottles, which are later sent for recycling through a recycling firm, Rekosistem – in its SCBD branch.

Every two weeks, on Wednesday mornings, the SC members organize a collection drive. Each class's contributions are gathered and weighed, with points tallied for the then-ongoing competition leaderboard. The process always started with a wave of energy as the SC, equipped with gloves and large plastic collection sacks, visited each classroom to pick up the trash bags that students had been filling over the previous fortnight. Members carefully check that only recyclable plastic bottles are included before sealing and labeling each bag according to its class origin.

Once all the bags were assembled, the SC teams coordinated the transfer of the collected recyclables to the designated storage area. From there, arrangements through Lalamove are made for transport to Rekosistem SCBD, where the bottles are sorted and processed for recycling. Seeing those neatly tied bags of bottles ready to leave campus always feels rewarding, a visual reminder of the collective effort our school community has put in to help reduce plastic waste.

Throughout the campaign, the SC has also been instrumental in raising awareness about the importance of sustainability. Announcements during morning assemblies and creative posters around the corridors have encouraged students to participate more actively. Some SC members even take on the role of Blu:Gen ambassadors, motivating their peers and reminding them that every bottle counts. At the end of the competition, Y5T won for the primary division and Y7A won for the secondary division!

The Blu:Gen competition isn't just about collecting trash, it's about nurturing a mindset of care, accountability, and collaboration. Through every collection drive, our students are learning that small steps, when taken together, can lead to a much greater change for the environment.

"Blu:Gen – where the new generation thinks green."
