PRESIDENT'S

Message

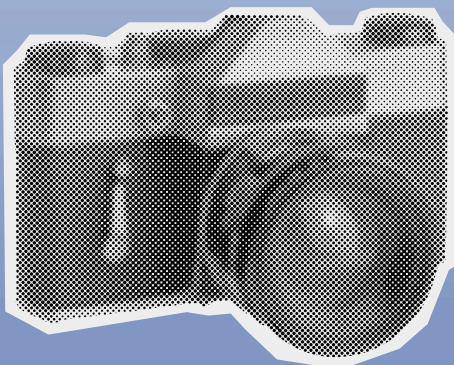

It is an honour and a privilege to stand before you today as the President of the 18th Batch Student Council. I would like to sincerely thank the students and teachers for placing their trust in me and in this Student Council.

His trust is something we deeply value, and we are committed to proving that it was well placed through the work we do throughout this year. We hope to lead with responsibility, purpose, and consistency, while creating an environment that every student can feel proud to be represented by.

As the 18th Batch Student Council, we want to represent the students, listen to every voice, and turn ideas into experiences that make our school life more meaningful. We know that leadership will come with challenges, but we also know that those challenges give us opportunities to learn, improve, and grow together.

Today marks the beginning of our journey, and I am excited to take it on with all of you, guided by our commitment to serve for the interest of the school and the welfare of the students.

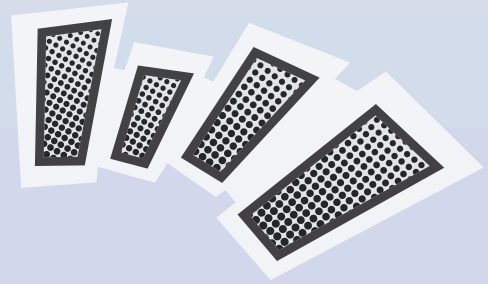

"Life is like riding a bicycle. To keep your balance, you must keep moving."

— Albert Einstein

DEAN FOR CDSA

Message

It is with immense pride and excitement that I welcome the 18th batch of the Student Council. It is a privilege to witness the enthusiasm and dedication that each of you brings to this historic legacy.

To the incoming members: You are not just stepping into a role; you are accepting a responsibility to be the voice of your peers. Remember always that a position is not a privilege, but a responsibility. This distinction is what separates those who hold a title from those who truly lead. This year, I encourage you to lead with integrity, listen with empathy, and act with courage. The 18th batch has the opportunity to set new standards of excellence, not just in the projects you execute, but in the culture you cultivate.

Remember, leadership is not about the title; it is about the impact. I am here to guide you, challenge you, and support you on this journey. Embrace the challenges ahead, learn from every situation, and always remember that the strongest leaders are those who serve first.

Leadership is a journey, not a destination. Here's to a year of growth, unity, and remarkable achievements. Let's make this year unforgettable.

— Ms Ong Chwee Geok
Dean for Character Development and Student Affairs

BELIEVE. LEAD. INSPIRE.

Written by : SC MENTORS

A positive team is more than a group working towards the same goal; it is a community that believes in one another. As Student Council leaders, the 18th Batch has the opportunity to create an environment where every student feels seen, heard, valued and empowered to contribute. Leadership is not simply about holding a position, but about the energy we bring, the way we treat others and the impact we leave behind. By choosing passion, integrity, adaptability, excellence, grace and teamwork, we can turn positive attitudes into positive actions and meaningful outcomes.

As mentors, we hope to build a strong foundation for the 18th Batch where every student feels they belong and their voice matters. We want our leaders to take initiative, act with integrity, embrace challenges, and learn from both success and failure. Excellence is not about being perfect, but continuously striving to improve. Above all, we hope to believe in their potential, challenge them to grow, and support them as they discover what they are capable of.

For this batch, we hope to cultivate a culture that celebrates achievement, effort and growth. We want the 18th Batch to recognise one another not only for big victories, but also for the quiet contributions, courage and perseverance behind them. We hope to build an inclusive Student Council where differences are respected, ideas are welcomed and every member knows they have an important role to play. When leaders lift one another up instead of competing to stand alone, the entire team rises together.

The journey of the 18th Batch will not always be easy, and it is not meant to be. There will be challenges, disagreements, mistakes and moments that test their resilience. But through every experience, we hope they learn to lead with purpose, serve with humility and grow with courage. Our role as mentors is not to create leaders who need us forever, but to help create leaders who eventually believe in themselves, believe in their team, and inspire others to do the same. The greatest outcome of this batch will not simply be what they accomplish, but the students they become and the students they inspire along the way.

"A mentor is someone who sees more talent and ability within you than you see in yourself and helps bring it out of you."
— Bob Proctor

YOUNG LEADERS' CONVENTION

Written by : ALICIA LONTOH Y11P

A breakthrough is the moment someone chooses to move past fear, doubt, or personal limits. Starting middle school can be challenging because students face new responsibilities, unfamiliar situations, and greater expectations. This year's Young Leaders' Convention encouraged the Year 7 students to step outside their comfort zones, believe in themselves, and grow into more confident leaders.

On the morning of 23 July, the Year 7 participants arrived with excitement and curiosity. They were welcomed with energetic cheers and icebreakers that helped them feel more comfortable and connect with their assigned families. After lunch, the theme was introduced to the participants with the help of the Governing Committee and the SC Mentors. followed by the first round of team-designed games. These activities challenged the participants to communicate, cooperate, and support one another.

One of the main activities was the signature YLC scavenger hunt, where families explored the resort through clues and challenges. This was followed by Mass Dance and TDG 2 planning, before ending the day with a campfire, barbeque, and reflection session.

The second day began with a morning stretch before the participants joined the Masterchef challenge. Each family worked together to prepare their best dish while practising teamwork, creativity, and time management. Later, they presented their TDG 2 performances and continued with TDG 3, which included exciting water games and outdoor activities.

The afternoon continued with pool time and the auction, followed by the memorable Finale Night. Families celebrated their achievements through performances, awards, and shared moments. On the final day, the participants visited the Mini Zoo then proceeded to say goodbye to their new friends and reflected on how much they had grown.

YLC 2026 showed that leadership is not only about guiding others. It is also about listening, adapting, encouraging teammates, and having the courage to face challenges. Through every activity, the Year 7 students learned that every breakthrough begins with the willingness to try.

*"It always seems impossible until it's done."

SC SELECTION

Written by : JASMINE HADITONO Y12P

On Saturday, 15 August 2026, Student Council Selection was held as an important part of the selection process for the incoming batch of Student Council members. The selection provided applicants with the opportunity to demonstrate their capabilities beyond their written applications, allowing the selection committee to observe their leadership potential, teamwork, communication, creativity, adaptability, and commitment through a series of practical activities.

The selection consisted of three main stages: Team-Designed Games (TDGs), Mock Event Planning, and Interviews. Each stage was designed to assess different qualities that are essential for becoming a responsible and effective Student Council member.

The Team-Designed Games (TDGs) placed applicants in various team-based challenges that tested their communication, cooperation, and adaptability. These activities allowed the committee to observe how applicants handled pressure, took initiative, listened to others, and responded to difficulties. Applicants were also encouraged to step outside their comfort zones and show their ability to both lead and support their teammates.

Following the TDGs, applicants took part in Mock Event Planning, where they worked together to create and present an event based on a given scenario. The activity gave them a glimpse into Student Council responsibilities while testing creativity, teamwork, time management, problem-solving, and decision-making.

The final stage consisted of individual interviews. This provided an opportunity for the selection committee to understand each applicant on a more personal level and learn about their motivations for joining Student Council. Applicants were able to share their experiences, strengths, ideas, and aspirations while also responding to questions and situations related to the responsibilities of being an SC member. The interviews complemented the group activities by allowing applicants to demonstrate qualities that may not have been immediately visible during the earlier stages.

At the end of the Selection process, applicants were evaluated based on their overall performance across all stages. Their leadership, teamwork, communication, initiative, adaptability, creativity, problem-solving, and willingness to learn were considered. New Student Council members were selected based on both their individual abilities and their potential to grow and contribute as part of a team.

Ultimately, the Student Council Selection 2026 was more than just choosing new members. It gave applicants the chance to challenge themselves, collaborate, and experience the responsibilities of Student Council. With the selection complete, a new group of students is ready to contribute fresh ideas, perspectives, and positive change to the school community.

"Leadership is practiced not so much in words as in attitude and in actions."

SC TRAINING

Written by : ALICIA LONTOH Y11P

On 22 August 2026, the Student Council held its first meeting, marking the official beginning of another year of learning, collaboration, and service. The meeting was organised to help members better understand their responsibilities while giving them practical experience in proposal making, presentations, and function-based tasks.

Through these activities, members were encouraged to work closely with one another, develop their confidence, and strengthen the skills needed to contribute effectively to the Council throughout the year.

The meeting began with a proposal-making session, where members worked within their committees to develop plans for their respective events. They discussed ideas, organised key details, and practised teamwork, communication, decision-making, and time management.

After completing their proposals, each committee presented their ideas to the Governing Committee and mentors. During the presentations, members explained the reasoning behind their plans and received constructive feedback on areas that could be further improved. This process encouraged members to think critically about their proposals while also helping them become more confident in presenting and responding to suggestions.

Another important part of the meeting was the Function Workshop, where members joined their respective functions and learned about their specific duties and expectations. With guidance from the GovCom and mentors, they gained a better understanding of how each function contributes to the success of Student Council activities.

Through these activities, members were encouraged to work closely with one another, develop their confidence, and strengthen the skills needed to contribute effectively to the Council throughout the year.

Following the workshop, members were given the opportunity to apply what they had learned by working on proposals based on their own respective functions and assigned events. Each group discussed how their function would contribute to the event and developed plans according to their responsibilities. Once completed, they presented their work to the GovCom and mentors, where they received further feedback and guidance.

Overall, the First Meeting served as a valuable introduction to the responsibilities and teamwork required within the Student Council. Through proposal making, presentations, and the Function Workshop, members were able to gain hands-on experience while developing a clearer understanding of their roles. The meeting provided a strong foundation for the year ahead and encouraged members to continue learning, collaborating, and contributing to the school community through future projects and events.
